AUTONOMOUS VEHICLE INTERNATIONAL

Published by the organizer of the industry’s most influential international events (Autonomous Vehicle Technology Expo and Symposium in Stuttgart, Germany, and Novi, Michigan, as well as the ADAS & Autonomous Vehicle Technology Expo in San Jose, California, USA), Autonomous Vehicle International presents the latest technologies, innovations and case studies from the world of connected and autonomous vehicles, as well as the latest ADAS developments. Printed copies of Autonomous Vehicle International are distributed to an international circulation of 10,000 engineers and decision makers from vehicle OEMs, and Tier 1 and Tier 2 manufacturers. Autonomous Vehicle International also reaches leaders in departments of transport, top-level road legislators, and leading CAV and V2X strategists. With a strong focus on automotive, mass transport, commercial, off highway and military vehicle applications, advertisers enjoy access to all of the fastest growing autonomous markets. The online edition reaches 28,000 global ADAS and AV engineers.

PRODUCTS & SERVICES

As part of our open-door editorial policy, advertisers may be able to take advantage of technical editorial opportunities, dependent on availability. This provides a dedicated section within every edition of Autonomous Vehicle International for product launches, updates, technical development articles and case studies, and in some instances, supplier interviews. This well-proven format provides the best combination of corporate sales message, technical information and reader response.
